DESCRIPTION

Of course, you've heard of Peru with its Nasca lines, Cusco and Machu Picchu. Although very interesting and a "must see" for everybody, Peru has much more to offer. The northern part of the country has not (yet) been discovered by tourists, but it contains several important natural and cultural highlights. You will be able to experience the real Peru and visit places you've never heard of before. If the "unknown" and "non-touristic" is what you are looking for, this is your tour. We'll take you from the coastal desert around Lima to the high Andes and down the eastern slopes into the Amazon rainforest. Dirt track lovers will appreciate this tour, because the asphalt to gravel ratio is about 65/35, which will tax your riding skills and endurance!
